Dear _____ (Name of the Recipient),

This letter might come as a surprise to you but I chose to write this letter because you already know how tough it is for me to express myself face-to-face. Through this letter, I want to thank you for coming into my life and lighting it up with your smile. You have been a rock solid support for me. You are the strongest woman I know and I appreciate you for your solid viewpoints.

Since the day you came into my life, I started looking forward to doing everything with you. From sharing our ice creams to having kids together, we have had a great life. It is only because of you as you always trusted me and never left my side. Even when I was at my lowest, you stood beside me. I love you for everything. Thanks for believing in me and making me a part of your life.

Yours Lovingly,

_____ (Sender's Name)
